

HEMLOCK STUDIO GALLERY Artists' Newsletter

January 1, 2026

Hemlock artists are awesome!

Please pick up your holiday artwork

If you can, please plan to stop by the gallery in the next few days to collect your Christmas/holiday-themed pieces and put them away until next year when they can be part of the 2026 collection. If for some reason you can't get in relatively soon, please contact a fellow artist to come in and pick them up for you. Alternatively, you can call the gallery Friday or Saturday (January 2nd-3rd) and ask the on-duty artist to gather your things and set them aside for you so that the gallery can be refreshed for the winter season. Thanks.

Offering Classes

Mondays and Tuesdays (when our gallery is closed for retail sales) are perfect days to offer classes because we can set up tables and chairs in the back of the gallery without worrying about customers in the gallery. Many folks who have visited our gallery are yearning for the opportunity to make art with others, a way of socializing and learning at the same time. Details for offering classes are available on our Artists' Reference ("Insider") page (left side).

Think about offering classes or even open studio sessions...it's yet another way to develop interest in your own artwork as well as to get folks into the gallery. Let me know if this is something that you're interested in or if you just want to brainstorm ideas. I

Check the 2026 work schedule

Please take a moment and check the work schedule. If you aren't currently on the schedule, please email me and let me know when you can work so that we can add you. Also, if you need/want to change your workday, let me know that, too, so that we can do whatever juggling is necessary. Also, please remember that if you can't work on your assigned day, check with other artists to see if they can swap with you (the easiest swaps are often with someone who works the same day of the week as you, and then you just work a different week). Click on link below to view the schedule.
